Motivation for IPCC Bureau Membership

I have worked with IPCC WGIII as Coordinating Lead Author (CLA) in its Fifth Assessment Report (Ch12: Human Settlements Infrastructure and Spatial Planning), Sixth Assessment Report (Ch2: Emission Trends and Drivers), and taken part in numerous outreach and scoping exercise for AR6 WGIII report's structure, the latest one in synthesizing to bring out the key messages to urban policy makers out of IPCC reports. The role of IPCC, as an honest science-broker to policy makers and to society in general, is more important than ever as we struggle to meet Paris Agreement's goals and live in the world with fast changing climate. Needless to say, the landscape of knowledge base and literature is rapidly changing too.

My realizations are clear: IPCC assessments now need to put more focus on 'high quality assessment', 'systematic assessment', 'solution-oriented', and 'clear recognition of regions' to bring science to policy makers. IPCC also needs to work more on the cross-linkages between its working groups. Climate is a key, yet only one component of the earth system – IPCC assessments need to develop clear linkages with the other assessments. A clear balance of scientific and non-scientific but credible literature with proper vetting is important for IPCC as we realize more needs to address the 'solution' part while bringing in more and more authors and knowledge from the Global South.

If I am elected to the IPCC bureau, I will stive for these to my fullest capacity. Any assessment can only become an excellent assessment if we can foster group-work. While author nominations are made by the multiple stakeholders, IPCC assessments needs a good, competent, and inclusive team for each chapter and is a crucial task where I will bring my own experience on how to do better for IPCC as bureau member and guide the assessment process.

Summary of Personal Profile

As a Vice President for Academic Affairs, I am currently responsible for Asian Institute of Technology's academic and research portfolios. Apart from providing senior leadership to the institute, my teaching, research and international activities involve: energy and climate policies and modelling and accounting; options and scenarios for energy and climate change mitigation; cities and climate change; and the SDG (Sustainable Development Goals) synergies and tradeoffs of climate and energy goals with others.

I served as a Coordinating Lead Author for the 6th Assessment Report \(WGIII-Mitigation\) of Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), where I led assessment on Emission Trends and Drivers (Chapter 2). I am also a member of Scientific Steering Committee of the Global Carbon Project (a well-known global research program). As a Coordinating Lead Author, I also led 5th Assessment Report of IPCC (WGIII-mitigation) for the Chapter 12, Human Settlements, Infrastructure and Spatial Planning.

I was placed amongst the top 1% of the global researchers for last several years (2020 -2022) in the field of ‘Energy’ as published in PLOS Biology Journal. I was amongst the 20 co-authors of a UN-led high-level global scientific assessment launched on 18 February 2021 by UN Secretary-General António Guterres “Making Peace with Nature: a scientific blueprint to tackle the climate, biodiversity and pollution emergencies” that outlines a blueprint to tackle Earth’s interconnected planetary crises presenting the latest science. My key contributions are also in major recent global scientific processes related to energy, climate change mitigation, and the cities and climate change issues. I had also led energy assessment for the Hindu Kush Himalaya, which is one of its first kind of assessment for the region led by the International Center for Integrated Mountain Development (ICIMOD). I also served as an International Expert Panel Member of the Consensus Panel on Low Carbon Cities at the Academy of Science of South Africa (ASSF) in 2009-2011. I was involved in publishing 336 cities’ emissions data and key drivers for the global community which is published by Nature’s Scientific Data in October 2018. My paper on urban typology and emissions in 50 Japanese cities, published in Urban Climate in 2012 was one of the most cited paper till 2017 of the Journal. I was one of the first group of scholars to carry out meta-analysis of the emissions of global cities (done on requests from the World Bank in 2009) which are taken as a base by many follow-on researchers. I have special focus on China’s cities and climate change issues where I have published many papers closely working with researchers in China. I was part of International Energy Agency’s World Energy Outlook 2008 team that made the first global estimation on the role of cities in the global energy consumption and carbon emissions -I led Asia and China there.

I have published papers in the top journals in the field such as Nature, Nature Sustainability, Nature Climate Change, Nature Scientific Data, Energy, Energy Policy, Journal of Industrial Ecology, Current Opinion in Environmental Sustainability, and others. I have published 8 books, two dozen book chapters, and over 70 peer-reviewed papers in international journals. I have delivered keynote and took plenary speaking roles in major international scientific conferences such as Planet Under Pressure (London, 26-29 March 2012), Chatham House event (London, 27-28 May 2014), Our Common Future Under Climate Change (Paris, 7-10 July 2015), Vienna Energy Forum (Vienna, 10-12 May 2017), and Cities & Climate Change Science Conference (Edmonton, 5-7 March, 2018). I was invited to co-chair the Scientific Steering Committee of this Edmonton Conference, which aimed to set a global research agenda for the future. The global research and action agenda that I helped to develop and personally co-authored with many experts is now noted by IPCC and now being implemented by the related international communities.

As of June 2023

I have delivered over 100 keynotes/plenary talks/invited talks in various events globally since 2012 alone. I am equally active in non-peer-reviewed policy-oriented publications and closely communicates with journalists for science communication, and quoted in the Economist, Reuters and many other media including several interviews.

Before joining Asian Institute of technology, I was one of the two Executive Directors of the Global Carbon Project from 2006-2012. I was a Guest Scholar to the Transition to New Technologies Group of International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis, Austria (2010-2013), a visiting Associate Professor to Nagoya University (2009-2012), and a visiting researcher (2012-2017) to National Institute for Environmental Studies, Japan. I was a Senior Policy Researcher and Project Manager of urban program at the Institute for Global Environment Strategies, Japan in 2000-2006.

Key experiences

April 2021 – ongoing	Vice President (Academic Affairs), Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand
July 2020 – March 2021	Dean, School of Environment, Resources and Development, Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand
Feb 2019 – ongoing	Professor of Energy and Climate Policy, Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Change, School of Environment, Resources and Development, Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand.
April 2016 – ongoing	Vice-Chair, Climate Change Asia, Asian Institute of Technology.
Jan 2017 – Dec 2018	Head, Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Change, Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand.
July 2012 – Jan 2019	Associate Professor of Energy and Climate Policy, Energy Field of Study, School of Environment, Resources and Development, Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand.
April 2006 – July 2012	Co-Executive Director (based in Japan), Secretariat of the Global Carbon Project, Hosted at National Institute for Environmental Studies, Japan and the Commonwealth Scientific and Research Organization (CSIRO), Australia.
April 2001 - March 2006	Researcher/Policy Researcher/Senior Policy Researcher and Project Manager, Urban Environmental Management Project, Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES), Japan.

Affiliated positions

August 2012 – March 2016	Visiting Researcher, Center for Global Environmental Research, National Institute for Environmental Studies, Japan.
Nov 2009 – Oct 2013	Guest Research Scholar, Transitions to New Technology Program, International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis (IIASA), Austria.
April 2008 - March 2013	Visiting Associate Professor, Graduate School of Environmental Studies, Nagoya University, Japan.
Nov 2011 – March 2013	Senior Fellow, Institute for Global Environmental Strategies, Japan.

Academic credentials

- Doctor of Philosophy (Ph. D), Department of Urban Engineering, The University of Tokyo, Japan, 2000 (Energy Management and Mitigation of Urban Heat Island).
- Special Full Time Graduate Student, January-May Semester, Technology Policy and Planning Program and Department of Civil Engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, United States, 1999.
- Master of Engineering in Energy Policy and Planning, Asian Institute of Technology, Thailand, 1996.
- Bachelor of Engineering, Electrical Power System, SV Regional College of Engineering and Technology, South Gujarat University, India, 1993.

Key leadership in knowledge community (selected recent activities only)

- Coordinating Lead Author, Emission Trends and Drivers (Chapter 2), IPCC's Sixth Assessment Report (WGIII-Mitigation), 2018- 2023
